Operation Outlook

- 1. Actively enter the esports market and launch self-owned brand, APEXGAMING, in order to increase market share. Furthermore, make the cooperation with foreign professional manufacturers in-depth to improve the company's overall operating performance.
- 2. Actively develop in air purification related products, then formally joined the Taiwan Air Quality Health & Safety Association as a member, and applied for the new brand of nano-photocatalyst air purifier HYPURE. SolyTech had committed to make nano-photocatalyst products into gaming power supplies, gaming cases, cooling fans, portable air purifiers, healing purifiers with essential oil, cup type portable purifiers, and car air purifiers. Those products have been granted patent certification, and been launched successively.
- 3. Actively develop products with environmental concepts, such as power cables for camping vehicles, yachts etc. Moreover, aim to develop in the diversified market. The product portfolio also provides charging cables for RV vehicles and yachts. At present, shore power technology is an important development for countries to achieve green emission reduction in every port nationally.
