Operating Status

Our primary operations encompass three major product lines: power supplies and computer cases under the Apexgaming esports brand, HYPURE air purifiers, and electric height-adjustable desks.

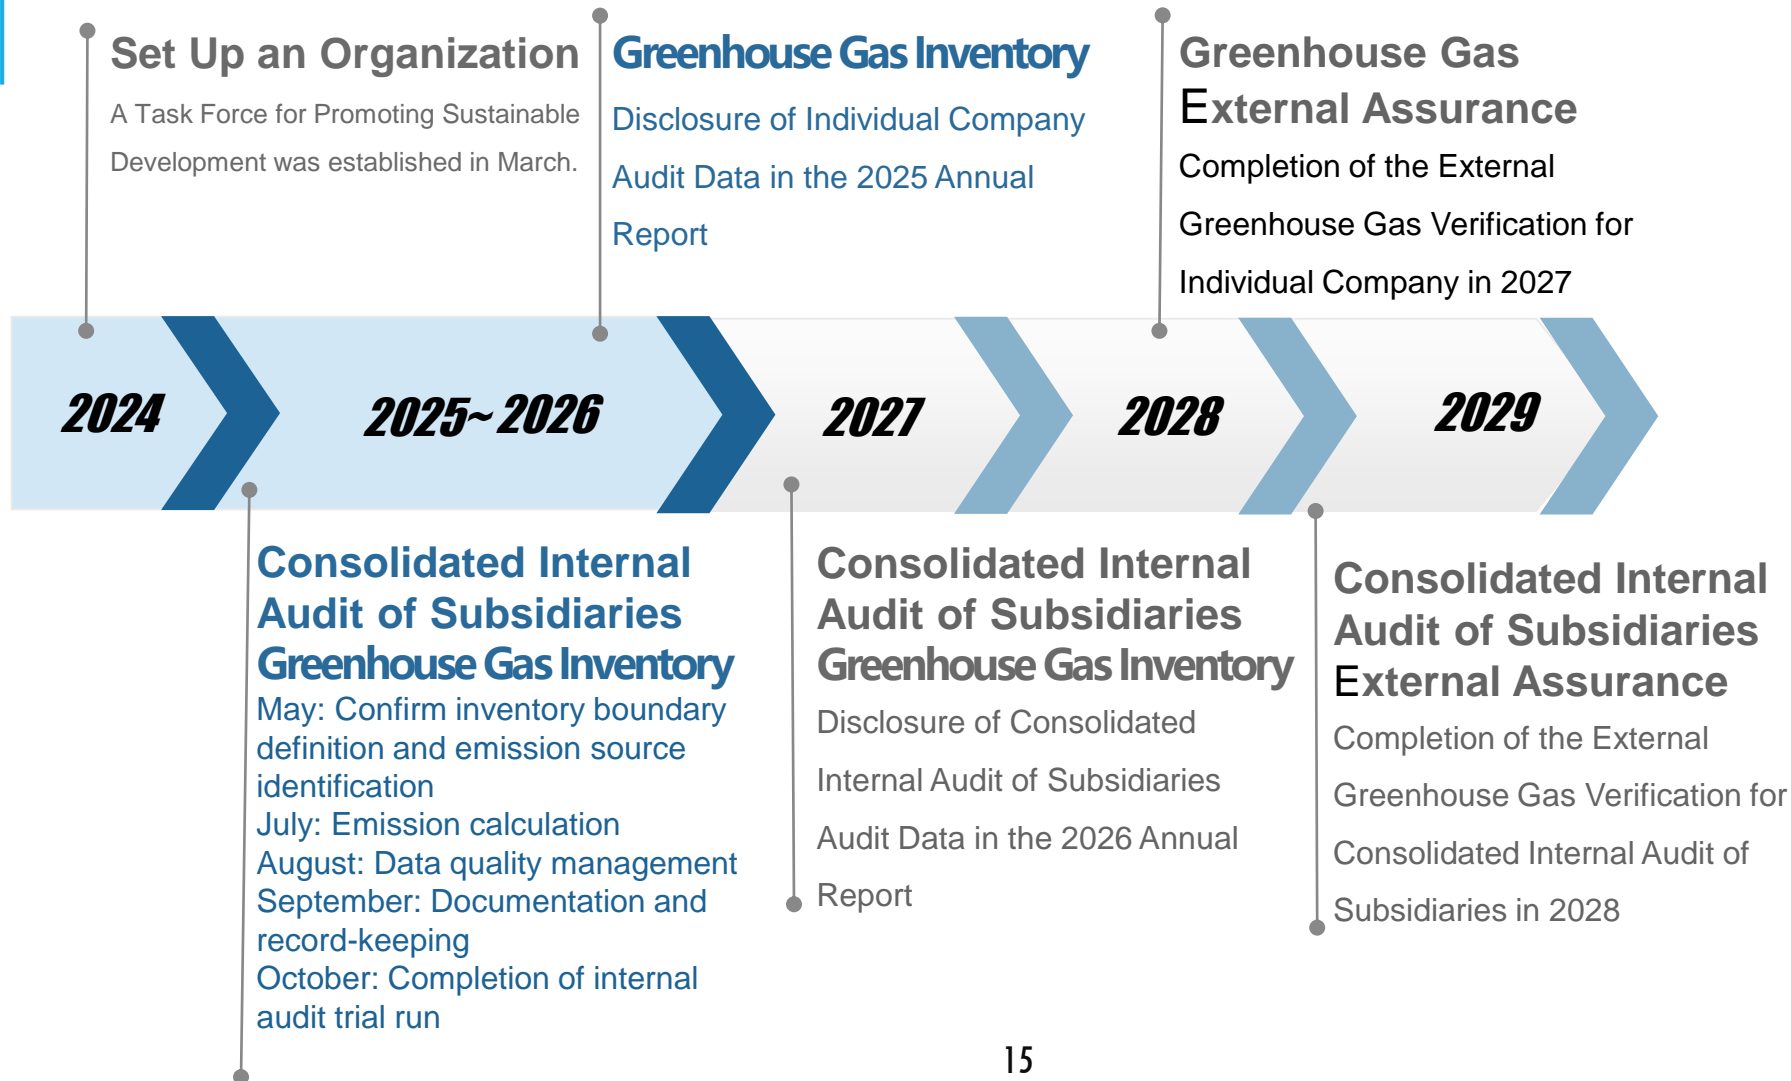

With “Gaming, Lifestyle, and Smart Office” as the three primary application domains, the company pursues a diversified product portfolio.

Responding to market demands for health and office efficiency, the launch of electric height-adjustable desks extends into the smart office and healthy living sectors, expanding from “gaming hardware” toward “healthy living” development.

Global PC Market Overview

The Global PC market will see modest growth in 2025, primarily driven by Windows 10 upgrades and new AI PC releases.

Demand for desktop computers and gaming products remains stable, with the Asian market performing relatively robustly.

New AI PC products are being launched successively, attracting market attention. Apexgaming will maintain a steady operational pace, focusing R&D efforts on meeting new market specifications and trends while continuing to monitor AI PC and high-performance application demands.

Outlooks

1. Continue to consolidate the market share of our proprietary brand Apexgaming in the Chinese and Taiwanese markets, while progressively seeking new customer opportunities in overseas markets.
2. HYPURE air purifiers will continue to highlight their patented technological advantages, maintain online marketing and brand exposure in Taiwan, and pursue OEM/ODM collaboration opportunities to expand sales channels.
3. Maintain the pace of esports product R&D, continuously update product designs and specifications to ensure products meet the latest market standards and application requirements.

Thank You !
